If you are a man who is having difficulty connecting with your partner when the issue of sex arises, this book will help you to overcome that.

Foreplay is one thing women can't get enough. Women are emotional creatures, and that's why they like, enjoy and often need foreplay. So, give her what she wants and she will reciprocate by giving you what you want as well. Unlike men, women don't get aroused fast and easily. This is because their bodies need help to warm up and the lubrication required for intercourse, and their emotions also dictate that they feel a sense of closeness and mutual respect with their partner. All of this can be achieved through foreplay, which will also help your partner feel desired by you.

If you simply want to jump on her and have sex, she'll feel like a tool or a machine designed to get you off. Now, each woman is different, and some might be able to get right to it without any foreplay, but the odds are that your woman will need to get wet first.

Since foreplay is important to a woman, I have since discovered as well that a woman's body was made up just for that. A woman has a lot of erogenous zones on her body that can be stimulated to arouse her sexually. But out of all those erogenous zones, the most important is her BRAIN. That is why a woman feels more sense of romance when she is with someone that she likes. This tells you that foreplay should always start from that most important erogenous part of her body which we said is her brain
